AMERICA FIRST—AND ALL THE TIME!

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said:
'This is my own, my native land,
And for its Flag I'll ever stand.'"

That war is a terrible, horrible thing to contemplate, and especially the modern war, no one denies, and the entrance of the United States into the struggle that is rending the Old World is a matter of deep concern to every citizen of America.

But because we abhor war we should not allow that abhorrence to make us disloyal to our country if war is forced upon us. In this crisis the President should not be thought of as a Democrat or Republican, but as an American who is the Chief Executive of the Nation and a patriot. And here let us remember that the greatest proof of the wisdom of the men who planned and founded our government is that every President elected, from Washington to Wilson inclusive, has been a big man mentally and a patriot. The selection of our greatest men has demonstrated that man is capable of self-government.

Woodrow Wilson is not just the representative of one political party—he is the President of all parties and the whole people. As such he is entitled to the support of all American citizens. Every well informed man knows that he has exerted every power at his command to keep us at peace with the world. But the conflict is inevitable. We will be forced into the world war because of our holding to the theory of popular government, for in its last analysis this is the deciding struggle between the two theories of government—democracy and autocracy. In this age when the genius of man has brought the human family into such close relations that national isolation is impossible it becomes evident that the struggle to the death between democracy and absolutism is on. What ever may have been the immediate causes that precipitated it the war is no more nor less than a finish fight for supremacy between monarchy and democracy. Its result will decide whether the people will rule or whether they will be ruled by potentates claiming authority by Divine right; whether the teachings of the brotherhood of man shall be world-wide or whether the world shall continue as armed camps of hostile foes. If democracy wins—and it will—it means uncrowning the kings, disarming the nations and establishing eternal peace. If absolutism and militarism should win it would mean the abolition of the democratic form of government and the enthroning of kings over all free peoples.

This struggle between these antagonistic ideas of government was bound to come. It could have been averted in no way save by the voluntary abdication of power by the monarchs. And in the clash between democracy and monarchy it is conceivable that the first nation to establish a republic could stay out of that fight. The perpetuity of OUR government in its present form depends upon the result of this war. Either democracy or monarchy will dominate the world. They are too antagonistic to exist side by side and one must supplant the other.

Unless Germany abandons her policy of indiscriminate murder on the high seas, or unless America cravenly admits that she is too cowardly to defend her rights, a fortnight hence will find this nation at war with Germany.

With this certainty before us real, genuine American citizens will cease their criticism of the administration and forget partisan feeling in zeal for their country.

In ordinary times when parties are maneuvering for political position there is no harm in the "outs" criticising the "ins," but now when national danger threatens from without the only thought should be that the President is an American and President of the whole people. He has the cordial support of the leaders of both parties in Congress. Mr. Hughes, whom Mr. Wilson defeated, is a true American and says "Stand by the President." I take it for granted that it is force of habit, formed in the recent campaign, that caused a group of Republicans to condemn the President, last Saturday night, because he sought to protect American citizens. And I trust that when actual hostilities begin that these men will at least cease to talk in favor of Germany.

We must cease idle talk. The situation is grave indeed. If war cannot be averted every American citizen owes his wholehearted allegiance to his country, and it is strange that an appeal to patriotism is needed.

To what extremes the war may bring us no one can tell, but whatever it may be the country has the right to expect your hearty good will and encouragement in all events and your services if needed.

But I know that when the first German gun is fired at Old Glory and a state of war actually exists that these men who are now criticising the administration will be as loyal as any, and they should refrain from criticism now when duty bids them voice only patriotic thoughts.

My country right, but right or wrong, my country!

WILSON ARMS SHIPS NAVAL GUNNERS TO BE USED

American Shipping to Resist Submarines Will Fire on U-boats at Sight

Extra Session of Congress Called April 16 No Hope of Averting War with Germany

President Wilson has ordered the arming of American merchant ships, using navy guns for the purpose. Gunners from the navy will man the guns, and in view of the fact that the submarines attack without warning, the American gunners will fire on the U-boats at sight.

Congress has been called to meet in extra session on April 16 to be ready for any emergency. That the first clash between an American vessel and a U-boat will be followed by a declaration of war is certain, and nothing save Germany's abandonment of ruthless submarine warfare will prevent war.

Octogenarian Passes Away.

James M. Cottle, died suddenly at his home on the river about four miles east of town at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning the 12 inst.

He had been in better health than usual the past winter and spent Saturday night at the home of his son D. N. about a mile and a half away, leaving there alone late Sunday afternoon. He went to the barn to feed his stock Monday morning, took slightly sick and returned to the house without completing his work. He sat down and rested for a few minutes and then went to the table to eat his breakfast. Shortly after sitting down at the table some member of the family noticed that he was about to fall from his chair. They started to lay him on the bed but he expired before they could lay him down. He never spoke after he was stricken at the table.

"Uncle" Jim, as he was familiarly known was born in this county Oct. 11, 1834, and had resided all his life in the same neighborhood where he first saw the light. He was one of Morgan county's best and most highly respected citizens. He was looked upon as a leader in thought and action in the community in which he lived and was often called upon to act as arbiter when differences would arise between his neighbors. He was a very successful farmer and at one time was one of the largest land holders in the county, but he had divided all his lands among his children.

He is survived by three brothers, John L. Cottle, of Forest, Frank Cottle, of Rossville, Kas., and Isaac Cottle, of Lexington; one sister, Mrs. Perry Davis, of Rossville, Kas.; four sons, I. L. W. T., D. N. and J. E. Cottle, all of the neighborhood; two daughters, Mrs. T. H. Johnston, of Forest, and Mrs. Eugene Sartin, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

In the demise of Uncle Jim Cottle the country loses another of the old guard whose ranks are fast thinning and whose places can never again be filled.

Interment took place in the family graveyard Wednesday.

J. W. Steele Passes Away.

John Wilkerson Steele, one of Morgan county's oldest and most venerated citizens, passed away at the home of his son, J. F. Steele, near Malone, at 1 o'clock a. m. Thursday, March 8, 1917, of infirmities due to old age.

Mr. Steele was born in Tazewell county, Virginia, March 16, 1826. He came to this county when a young man and resided here continuously until his death.

No man was more prominently identified with the history and development of Morgan county than "Wick Steele, as he was familiarly called. He was a pioneer school teacher and served as County Superintendent of Schools about the time the rural school system was organized. It is said that he conducted the first teacher's institute ever held in this county. He was County Surveyor at one time and also represented his district in the Kentucky Legislature. He was of a studious nature and scholarly attainments, and until a few years ago, when his eyesight failed him was an inveterate reader. Few men of his day were better posted on current topics than J. W. Steele.

He was a consistent member of the regular Baptist church and his hope and belief were strikingly exemplified in his daily life. In his passing the county loses another of its patriachs whose place it is impossible to fill.

He is survived by four sons, Marion Steele, of Nickell, Thos. J. Steele, of Jackson, and Geo. W. and J. Floyd Steele, of Malone.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at the home by Eld. John L. Ferguson, of the regular Baptist church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the family grave yard at old South Fork church.

Another Pioneer Goes To His Reward.

William L. Elam died at his home at Blair Mills Monday morning March 12, of infirmities incident to old age. He was in his 88th year and was a splendid type of the old time Kentucky citizen. He wielded a powerful influence in the section in which he lived. He was postmaster at Blair Mills for a great many years. He was born and reared near West Liberty but settled in the northern part of the county many years ago.

He was a boyhood friend and playmate of James M. Cottle, notice of whose death appears in this issue.

He is survived by his widow; Three sons, R. M. Elam, of Wrigley, J. E. Elam, of Blair's Mills, and B. F. Elam, of Iowa; five daughters, Mrs. Jas. McClain, of Lenox, Mrs. John McGuire, of Blair's Mills, Mrs. A. G. Blair, of Craney, and Mesdames J. C. and F. P. Blair, of Morehead.

The remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground at Blair's Mills Tuesday.

Normal Department Resumes Work.

The Normal Department of the Graded and High School will reopen on next Monday, March 19th, according to announcement already made by Instructor Jno. M. Lykins. This department was closed a few weeks ago, temporarily, on account of the epidemics then raging in West Liberty. Before the interference of these epidemics, the prospects were unusually bright for a successful term of work. Professor Lykins is a most capable instructor, and maintaining a high standard of effort and achievement among his students. He expects to accomplish a great deal in the next two months for those who enroll in his classes. This is an excellent opportunity for all who wish, either to prepare for examination or to augment their efficiency as teachers. Measles and smallpox cannot disturb the work again. We are expecting a good attendance, and there is no reason why we should not have it.

Obituary.

Drexel, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson of Adele, died Thursday morning, March 8th, of Acute Indigestion, after an illness of about five days. He was eighteen months and nine days of age, and was an exceedingly bright, lovable child.

He was stricken while at play on Saturday the 3rd inst., but was not considered at all serious until the following Monday when grave complications set up and he began to sink rapidly. Doctor Wheeler of Lee City who had the case in charge summoned Doctor Wheeler of Caney, and they resorted to every method known to medical science to give the little fellow relief but their efforts were in vain. The frantic parents then called Doctor Hurst from Jackson, who arrived at Noon Wednesday and joined the Drs. Wheeler and all three of them labored until they saw further efforts were useless. The little fellow grew gradually worse until death came at fifteen minutes of nine o'clock Thursday morning. His suffering was intense almost to the moment of his death. His little body was laid to rest in the private cemetery of the Taulbee family at Adele, where many of Mrs. Anderson's people are buried. A large concourse of friends followed the little white casket to the grave, amongst them a great number of children who knew and loved the child during his brief life. The grief of the young parents was pitiful to see, both of them being so shocked and prostrated that they had to have the attention of a doctor. Drexel was their only child and was simply worshipped by them both. The "COURIER" extends its sympathy to them in their hour of grief and points them to a higher power for solace, where—

From belt to belt of crimson seas,
On leagues of fragrance streaming far,
To where in yonder orient star
A million spirits whisper, "welcome,"—"peace."

Recovery Doubtful.

News was received here recently that Perry Davis, who was accidentally shot in the thigh about four weeks ago, was in a very serious condition and that his recovery is doubtful. He was taken from his home in Rossville, Kas., to a Topeka hospital where the ball was removed from his leg.

Mr. Davis was a former resident of this county and has many relatives and friends here who are still hoping for his recovery.

Killing In Johnson County.

In what was reported to be a drunken brawl near Yellowtown, on Little Paint in Johnson county Sunday, John Bailey shot and instantly killed Prentiss Stanley.

Mother's Club.

We are glad to state once more that the Mother's Club is to have its regular meeting. The January meeting was called off owing to the services at the Methodist church. The February meeting was wisely postponed by the program committee on account of so many mothers having to nurse the children with measles. However, an interesting program has been waiting and we hope every mother who is assigned a subject will meet at the Methodist church at 2:00 p. m., Wednesday March 21 and be fully prepared to discuss it.

Subject, "Purity."

B. S. Stamper Announces

His Candidacy for Sheriff.

In this issue of the Courier appears the formal announcement of B. S. Stamper, of Sellers, as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic party to which he has always belonged.

South is too well known to the people to need introduction. His services as Sheriff heretofore is his platform now. He authorizes us to say that if elected he will make the same Sheriff he made before; that he or his deputies will collect the taxes at the homes of the people in the old time way, and no person's land or property will ever be advertised for sale until he has positively refused or failed to pay after personal notice.

He begs to say to the voters and people that if elected his necessary deputies will be selected from among solid, substantial virile men upon the sole basis of honesty, energy, efficiency, responsibility, and allround sterling merit, men who can furnish personal bonds, and men who, with himself, will be a guaranty to the people of a safe, solid, courteous and generous conduct of the office.

BERNARD WHITT ENTERS RACE FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

In last issue of the Courier we published the announcement of Bernard E. Whitt, of Caney, for the Democratic nomination for Superintendent of Schools of Morgan county. Never having been in politics Mr. Whitt is perhaps not known personally in some sections of the county, but notwithstanding this he has a wide acquaintance among the teachers of the county and those active in educational work. He has taught in the country schools for several years and was for two years connected with the West Liberty High and Graded School. He is at present principal of the Graded School at Caney. He is rated as one of the best teachers in the county, as is evidenced by the fact that the best positions are always at his command.

Mr. Whitt is a self-made and self-educated man in the strictest sense of the term. He obtained his education under circumstances and in the face of difficulties that would have broken the spirit of one less determined to succeed. He is a hard student, a profound scholar and well equipped by experience and training to discharge the duties of the office to which he aspires.

It is the desire of the Courier that the voters give his candidacy due and timely consideration.

POSSIBILITIES OF OUR SOIL.

We want to say to the farmers of this community that no feature of present day education is more potent for good to this country than that now being accomplished by the various agricultural schools and experimental stations and farms.

Twenty years ago the "book farmer" was looked upon as a visionary by a large per cent of our farming population, and is even yet so regarded by some, though happily their number is small.

Now the man who intelligently studies his soil with a view to determining its needs is coming to the front as an authority on matters agricultural. And the reason this is so is because his theories have brought forth fruit in fact.

Nothing is more certain than that this country is woefully behind in farming efficiency. For years our farming experts have been pointing out to us the fact that our lands are not producing a half, not even a third, of the crops that bountiful nature intended they should yield. One has only to cite the case of Germany to see the full force of this statement. Germany is not as large as the state of Texas, yet Germany today is supplying her civil population and her vast armies almost entirely from the products of her own soil.

But Germany and other old world countries have for years practiced intensive farming, a system that is only just beginning to prevail in this country.

Instead of being merely an experiment, intensive farming should be the rule. Nothing more fully demonstrates the truth of this statement than a glance at the results obtained by the many corn clubs of the country. From all directions come reports from these organizations, where the enormous yield of 200 bushels and more per acre has been attained. Not only this, but the reports coming from all sections of the country are proof that almost any of our soil is susceptible to just such improvement.

Then there is another important feature to these big corn yields. It has been shown that they can be produced at a substantial profit over and above the cost of preparing the land for their production. Careful records have been kept of all expenditures, and in almost every instance the proceeds have much more than paid the cost of bringing the soil to its present state of fertility.

If these results can be obtained from an acre, or two or three, why not from ten, or fifty, or a hundred acres? If they can be obtained from a patch, why not from a field? Why not from all fields?

The deplorable truth is that too many of our farmers are "necessity farmers. They ask themselves, "How much do I need?" and then proceed to satisfy that need, and no more. They should rather ask, "How much can I get?" and then get all they can.

It has been estimated that America could feed the world if all her soil were made to produce to its full capacity.

What that capacity is, we are only just beginning to discover.

Quit Your Meanness.

Put the hammer in the locker
Hide the sounding board likewise—
Any one can be a knocker,
Any one can criticize.
Cultivate a manner winning,
Tho it hurts your face to smile,
And seems awkward in beginning,
Be a booster for awhile.

Let the blacksmith do the pounding—
That's the way he draws his pay,
You don't get a cent for hounding
Saint and sinner night and day.
Just for solid satisfaction
Drop a kind word in the slot,
And I'll warrant you satisfaction
From your effort on the spot.

Kindness every time beats kicking,
Mirth is better than a frown—
Do not waste your time in picking
Flaws with brothers who are down;
And it isn't so distressing,
If you give a little boost,
To the man the facts are pressing
When the chicks come home to roost.

Yes the old world would be brighter
If you'd kindle friendships flame,
And thus make the trouble lighter
Of the man against the game.
Send your grouch on a vacation,
Give your grumbling tones a shake
And with grim determination,
Throw the hammer in the lake.

Mistaken Zeal.

An old Australian farmer visited his daughter, who had antinacassars on the backs of her chairs. As he was sitting by the window, he spied the minister coming to visit "Jean," as she was called. As she went to answer the door, her father, not being accustomed to such finery, snatched all the antinacassars off the chairs and threw them under the table.

"Aye, Jean, lass, I was to get yer washing out o' the way afore the minister came in," said the old man when the minister had gone.

Sometime.

There is a ship named Sometime.
Men dream of it and wait;
One on the shore impatient,
One at the household gate,
Thinking: "If it come not in the morn,

Then in the evening it may."
But I knew one, not thinking of ships,
Worked till the close of day.
Lifting his eyes at evening time,
There his ship at anchor lay!

—Irene Hardy.

How to "Wither" Warts.

A formula has been recently put forward by a medical authority which, he claims, practically "withers warts while you wait." Mix sulphur sub., five drams; concentrated acetic acid, two and a half drams; glycerin, two ounces. Apply the paste to the warts on small pieces of linen or spread with a brush at night. Wash off the next morning. Repeat till the warts drop off. —London Answers.

"Fourth of July" In March.

Fireworks on Independence day are denied the children and grown folks of Alaska for the simple reason that the July nights are almost as light as the days, and it does not pay to attempt pyrotechnic displays if there is no darkness to show them off by contrast. Consequently it has become the custom in many Alaskan cities, including Fairbanks, to hold a Fourth of July celebration on March 4, when the nights are still very long. Then there is abundant opportunity for displaying fireworks of every variety.

The Unselfish.

Even in ordinary life the unselfish people are the happiest—those who work to make others happy and who forget themselves. The dissatisfied people are those who are seeking happiness for themselves. —Mrs. Besant.

Right Living.

In the firm control of our thoughts lies the secret of the most wonderful possession of which we can boast—character. It is as much a matter of habit as of will, this being always honorable, truthful, just. Having formed our principles of right living, conscience invariably points to a whole hearted loyalty to them. And when baser motives try to sway the mind, why, here is just where your will power may profit by exercise.—Exchange.

Big Financial Leak.

The claim is made by a close student of the immigration question that not less than $50,000,000 of the savings of immigrants are sent from the United States to Europe each month, and that the total amount of savings exported during the two years of the war is $1,200,000,000. The authority for these figures says that this result is due to the constant urging of the "omnipresent private banker, whose greatest profits lie in foreign exchange." This is not a condition peculiar to the war in Europe, for the savings of foreign laborers have been sent abroad for many years, although it may be said that in a large number of cases the money was used in buying tickets for members of families who were unable to reach the hospitable shores of this country.

Undoubtedly there is great destitution in many parts of Europe, and, in consequence increasingly large amounts of money are being sent home by foreign laborers in the United States. Perhaps they should be commended rather than censured for providing for their destitute relatives, many of whom have been deprived of all other means of support. Nevertheless, the exportation of $50,000,000 each month is an enormous drain upon the resources of this country, and if it is to continue any length of time, the balance of trade in our favor will not do us a great amount of good, for all the profits, will be returned to Europe. We do not know of any cure.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Making The Sea Give Up Its Ships.

More or less melancholy interest always attaches to a sunken ship, springing from both practical and sentimental causes. This interest will add zest to the recital of a Brazilian inventor's achievement. His plan for raising sunken vessels, explained a few weeks ago to the Engineer's Club at Rio de Janeiro, is simplicity itself. Any depth of water in which divers can work is within the scope of the plan, which is to attach bags of various shapes to the wreck, both within and without, and then inflate them with air from above. The expanding bags expel the water from the vessel, and by its own buoyancy it rises. Experiments with the invention are reported to have been very successful. The British Channel will afford a splendid field for its operation after the war, and such victims of the U-boats as have not been shattered beyond repair may be restored to the fleets of the world. —Omaha Bee.

Good Breeding.

Good sense must in many cases determine good breeding, because the same thing that would be civil at one time and to one person may be quite otherwise at another time and to another person, but there are some general rules of good breeding that hold always true and in all cases.—Chesterfield.

Look To Eternity.

It were good for man to have some anchorage deeper than the treacherous quicksands of this world, for these drift to and fro in such a way as to baffle all conjecture.—Carlyle.

Finding One's Ideal Weight.

Dr. Harvey G. Beck of the University of Maryland has told a simple way to calculate what one ought to weigh. First, he said, put down 110; then subtract 5 feet from one's height and multiply the number of inches that remain by 5½. Add this product to the original 110 and the sum is one's ideal weight. — Exchange.

Accuracy.

"I am delighted to meet you," said the father of the college student, shaking hands warmly with the professor. "My son took algebra from you last year, you know."

"Pardon me," said the professor, "he was exposed to it, but he did not take it." — Christian Register.

"Allee Samee."

A San Francisco man recently attended a Chinese funeral and was much amused when the "heathen" placed a tray containing a cooked duck on top of the grave.

"Do you expect the dead man to come out and eat it?" he asked.

"Allee samee as Melican man come out and smellee the flowers," was the quick retort of one of the attendants. — Masonic Home Journal.

CORRESPONDENCE

GRASSY CREEK.

We have had a dreary old fashioned winter. Everybody seems to be anxious to see spring open up, as farming season has come.

Measles is prevalent in this section at this time.

Asa Lykins, Ben Elam, Inez Carter, Victor Gevedon, Hazel Gevedon, Hobert Johnson, Valentine Carter, and J. F. Gevedon's little child all have measles at this writing.

Taylor Tolson and family have sold their property and household goods and will in a short time go to Middletown, Ohio, where all other restless people go. If the road leading from this section to Middletown was built of combustible material it would have long since exploded from friction, caused by continuous travel.

Elder T. H. Testerman filled his regular appointment at new Concord church Saturday and Sunday.

Joel W. Carter has gone to Middletown, Ohio, to visit relatives.

Taylor Payton, who has been working at Middletown for quite awhile, paid his home folks a visit recently.

The recent snow did considerable damage to fruit trees in this section.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of Dr. J. D. Whiteaker, of Cannel City. We hope that he will have a speedy recovery.

W. P. Halsey, is closing out his job of sawing at T. F. Stamper's after which he will move his mill to the L. B. Reed set.

Flem Perkins, who has been seriously ill during the winter, is no better.

I was sorry that circumstances was such that I could not attend Circuit Court this session, but I learn that Court is going on just the same, and that the Court continues to handle whiskey sellers without gloves.

The cloud of war is still hanging over us but I hope that it will soon be dispersed, and that the sunshine of permanent peace will again shine on our country.

Every body should subscribe for the Courier, and learn what the other fellow is doing.

FAIRPLAY.

LIBERTY ROAD.

Misses May and Sylvia Henry entertained a number of friends at their home Sunday.

Misses Ruth and Grace Wells are visiting their cousin, Miss Lona Fugett this week.

Leonard Adams, who has had measles, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ratliff and children, Ova and Lillian, visited Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Hale Thursday till Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Wells and children have returned from Iowa.

Born to the wife of Clark Leach March 9, a girl.

Measles is still raging through this vicinity.

Dr. Gevedon filled his regular appointment at Flat Woods Sunday.

Local and Personal.

Oscar Cantrell, of Ophir, was here on business last week.

E. W. Day, of Grassy Creek, was here on business Monday.

D. W. Howard, of White Oak, was in town on business Friday.

Josh McClain, of Lenox, transacted business in town Saturday.

Howard Nickell, of Nickell, was in town on business Saturday.

Jas. P. Sergeant, who spent the winter in Illinois, has returned home.

Jesse B. Cassity, of Blaze, paid the Courier Crew a pleasant visit Friday.

J. W. Perry, of Yocum, visited and transacted business in town Monday.

Green Salyer, of White Oak, was here the first of the week on business.

Esq. B. F. Blankenship, of Sellers, was here last week on business.

There has been six good tides in Licking river in less than that many weeks.

Josiah Havens, of Grassy Creek, transacted business in town Tuesday.

Ollie Blair, of Wrigley, was here this week talking "groceries" to our merchants.

Albert Fannin, of Dan, was a business caller at the Courier office last week.

Adlai Johnston, Wallie and Sam Salyer, of Harbor, were here last week on business.

S. R. Lykins, of Stacy Fork, attended Court here Thursday and Friday of last week.

Deputy Fish and Game Warden Miles Smallwood, of Forest, joined the Courier family last week.

W. P. Henry, of Flat Woods, was a business caller at the Courier office Monday.

Revis and Erb Carr, of Ezel, were business callers at the Courier office while in town Friday.

Green Lacy, Jr., of Cannel City, became a member of the Courier family while in town Monday.

Roger and Ruth, children of Mrs. C. W. Womack, have recovered from light attacks of varioloid.

Misses Aura Maxey and Emma Earls, of near town, were pleasant visitors at the Courier office Saturday.

Troy Arnett, of Neola, representing a rain coat concern, was here this week calling on our merchants.

Jas. Oakley, of Yocum, visited his nephew, R. M. Oakley, and transacted business in town the first of the week.

Mrs. Jesse Blair and little son Frank, of Wrigley, visited her daughter, Mrs. Jas. M. Elam, Friday till Monday.

J. A. Cox, of Relief, ordered the Courier sent to his address for one year while attending Court here last week.

A. J. Brown, a former Morgan county citizen, now a prosperous merchant, of Ashland, was here last week on business.

The Courier Crew is indebted to Carl Kendall and Louis Phipps for assistance rendered in running off this issue of the paper.

D. B. Lacy, of near town, received word that his son, Curtis, was seriously sick at Sandy Hook with a relapse of measles.

Joseph Patton, formerly a resident of this county but who now lives in Huntington, W. Va., was here last week attending Circuit Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Ellington, and little daughter Lillian left Wednesday morning for Logansport, Ind., where they will make their future home.

D. H. Dawson, of Florress, was in town last week attending Court. Mr. Dawson had us make him a lot of cards advertising his candidacy for Assessor.

John H. Taulbee, of Davenport, Okla., is here looking over the oil and gas situation with a view of starting development in the near future.

T. H. Bailey, of Dingus, was in town on business recently. Mr. Bailey has been in poor health for several months but is able to be out again.

Curtis Pieratt, of Hazel Green, was here the first of the week investigating some land titles. Mr. Pieratt says there is quite an oil bon around Hazel Green.

Keyser West, who has been visiting his sisters, Mesdames Myrtle and Bertha Boruff, at Kokoma, Ind., for two or three months, came home last week.

Our genial friend Evan H. Tomlinson, of East Bend, N. C., is visiting in West Liberty. Mr. Tomlinson has a host of friends here who are always glad to welcome him.

W. M. Henry, of Flat Woods, was in town on business one day last week. Mr. Henry told a representative of the Courier that he was a candidate for Justice of the Peace of the 3 Magisterial district.

Ollie Blair, of Wrigley, and W. H. Childers, of Maytown, two hustling drummers, were calling on the trade here the first of the week. Ollie subscribed for the Courier and Bill gave us a nice order for stationery.

Jas. P. Oney, of White Oak, has bought Floyd Arnetts residence in Burns addition and will move to town about the first of April. It is understood that Mr. Arnett will move back to his farm on Red river. The people of West Liberty regret to see Mr. Arnett and his family leave, but are glad to welcome Mr. Oney and family to their midst.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Kirstin Stump Puller

One Man — Horse Power

Every Kirstin is guaranteed for 15 years, how or no how. Your money back if the Kirstin does not live up to its promise. The Kirstin method clears land from 10 to 50 percent cheaper than any other. We guarantee this, too.

For nearly a quarter century the Kirstin Horse Power Stump Puller has proved its superiority on Southern stump lands. Thousands of Southern farmers have been started on the road to prosperity by a Kirstin.

It is designed for Southern work and will pull anything it tackles, be it a thick, green pine, a deeply imbedded sap root or a field of hundreds of heavy stumps. The new triple power and automatic take-up enable it to perform the heaviest work with rapidity, certainty and without strain on man, horse or machine.

The One Man Puller gets the biggest stumps, too. Horses unnecessary. Double leverage gives you a giant's power; a push on the handle means a pull of tons on the stump. Clears an acre from one anchor and clears it ready for the plow.

Big Land Deal.

We have been informed that E. B. Carr, who was connected with some business enterprises in this county several years ago, has recently sold 20,000 acres of coal and timber land in this county to Miss Barbara Adams, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Notorious Bootlegger Caught.

Deputy U. S. Marshall Clay Arnett arrested Amos Colvin on Little Paint in Johnson county Sunday on a charge of bootlegging. He was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner D. R. Keeton Tuesday and held over to the Federal Court at Jackson.

Colvin has given the authorities considerable trouble heretofore and has served one sentence for violation of the revenue law.

October 3, 1916.

Hon. Rodman Wiley, Frankfort, Ky.,

Dear Sir:

In yours of the 29th., ult., you inquire whether a county can be compelled to maintain a State Aid road after it has been constructed.

It is unnecessary for me to specifically refer you to the law which requires a county to maintain a road which has been constructed under the supervision of the State. The State has no means of compelling a county to maintain the road other than by withdrawing State Aid money from the county in the event it fails to carry out its part of the contract. If a road is constructed jointly by the county and State and the county then fails or refuses to maintain the road in accordance with the law you should notify the county that it cannot receive any more State Aid until it makes suitable provision for the maintenance of its State Aid roads.

Yours truly,
M. M. LOGAN,
Attorney General.

To All County Road Engineers and Newspapers.

Dear Sir:

Your attention is called to Sec. 42, Chap. 80, Acts 1914, where it reads as follows:

The County Road Engineer shall hold a road meeting in each Magisterial District each year between the 20th day of February and the 30th day of March for the discussion of road topics and for furthering the improvement of the roads of the county."

Very truly,
R. WILEY,
Commissioner of Public Roads.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the Bigstaff Cannel Coal Co., of Cannel City, Ky., is closing its business and winding up its affairs. This Jan. 26, 1917.

BIGSTAFF CANNEL COAL CO.,

Custer Jones, Agent.

In the account of Wm. Elam's death we failed to get the name of Mrs. T. J. Sergeant as one of the surviving daughters.

John Jay Knox

Money he earned and saved while a village youth he spent on an education. As a bank clerk, later, he was studious and thrifty. At middle age a great financier, Knox lectured and wrote about banking topics and as Comptroller of the Currency he helped renege the government after the Civil war.

Are you preparing for future prosperity and comfort by saving regularly a part of your earnings? Will you be able to take advantage of opportunity for profitable investment when it comes? Could you weather a sick spell without going heavily in debt? Be able to say YES to these questions a few months hence by starting a savings account with us with a part of your pay this week. Watching that account grow will stimulate your energies.

Multiply your money in our care.

Friend Gardner:

Please find enclosed my check for $1.00. Don't fail to keep the Courier on its way to Enid, as the Cole family is always anxious to read it.

Well Gardner, I will tell you a little bit about myself. I am traveling for Jeff & Wood, a wholesale grocery company, of Wichita, Kas., but my territory is all tributary to Enid. I make drives every day from 85 to 100 miles and back home at night in my Studebaker, and in "all of my travels I never see one rock. This is a very fine country, and we are getting excited over oil, as the fields are only 18 miles from Enid, 20 or 30 minutes run in a car.

Mr. Wells and I have a shoe store in Enid employing three clerks besides himself. We are having a nice trade.

Albert Wells lives near Oklahoma City and I hear he is getting along fine.

Well, Gardner, the lathstring is on the outside to all my friends. Come out.

Very truly,
R. B. COLE.

Albert Wells, of near Cannel City, was in town Monday and had bills printed advertising the sale of his personal property and household goods Saturday. Albert has bought a farm in Clark county and will move to it next week.

We have a few copies of Col. J. T. Hazelrigg's Centennial Historical Address left and we are going to give our readers a chance to get a copy at a figure below the actual cost of production. This booklet contains the only authentic history of Morgan county ever written. Col. Hazelrigg was a master in the art of diction. No one can read this masterpiece of his without gaining inspiration therefrom.

They will, in all probability, never again be reprinted. Your children will treasure them as priceless heirlooms. We are closing them out at 25 cents per copy—get one while they last. Address at the

Saturday Concert

Phoenix Hotel

On account of the great number of oil producers and coal operators that spend the week end at the Phoenix Hotel, a musical concert will be given by the Phoenix Orchestra each Saturday afternoon from 4 until 8 p. m.

Miss Hogarty will arrange a special program, and Mr. Bruce Reynolds, who is considered the greatest violinist in the South, will play a number of solos.

The Phoenix Hotel greatly appreciates the patronage of the mountain people from the Southeast and Big Sandy sections of the State and will endeavor to make their visits to Lexington as pleasant as possible.
